Waterco announces appointment of Non-Executive Director

Waterco Limited (ASX: WAT) (Company) is pleased to announce the appointment of Professor Judy Raper as a Non-Executive Director with effect from 1 April 2020.

Professor Judy Raper holds a Bachelor of Engineering (Hons) and has a doctorate from The University of New South Wales. She is an experienced leader with over twenty years in senior executive roles, recognized for innovation, strategic thinking and the ability to bring out the best in people. Embracing digital disruption in teaching and research, she has been an innovator throughout her career in higher education.

She has over 15 years' experience as a director serving on a number of Australian and US boards including independent statutory authorities, research and development corporations, startups and private companies. As a capable and dynamic committee chair she is sought after as someone who can find lateral solutions and engage stakeholders to ensure successful implementation of strategic objectives.

She has a strong track record in academia and a broad range of technology oriented industries including materials, environment, nuclear technology and healthcare. She has been named one of Australia's most influential women, and as one of Australia's 100 most influential engineers for the last three years. A prize for "leadership in engineering" was named in Judy's honour at her alma mater, UNSW.

Ends.
